Here's

Four Questions to Ask Before Choosing a Dance Studio:

#1

How do I know I will receive quality instruction?

It's always important to make sure that your child's instructors are qualified. Look for instructors with professional dance training and that are members of national organizations such as the British Association of Teachers of Dance (B.A.T.D.), the syllabus in which all JSOD instructors are certified. Refer to www.jacquelines-schoolofdance.com/faculty for further information on our award-winning staff's full qualifications and credentials.

#2

What does the annual performance involve?

The end of the year performance is important! Stage experience is not only valuable, but dancers should be provided with an opportunity to dress up in a costume and show off what they have learnt throughout the year. All JSOD students, recreational and competitive, finish off the year by performing in the Spring Showcase "Dreams Do Come True." Dancing on stage for the applause of mom, dad, grandparents and friends is the highlight of the year!

#3

What should I look for in a dance facility?

Your child's dance facility should provide a clean, neat, and safe environment. The type of floor that is used is very important. At JSOD, our wood-sprung, Rosco-covered flooring ensures the safety of our students. We have a spacious and comfortable waiting room, complete with live-feed videos of all classes. Four large dance studios are all equipped with professional sound systems and mirrors to floor. JSOD has three large change rooms and four bathrooms, as well as a lunch/homework area.

Can I get immediate assistance and customer service?
